

RENTER'S INSURANCE

PROVIDED BY CHAMPION INSURANCE

CRAWFORD HOYING

ARE YOU PROTECTED?

AS A RENTER, YOU COULD EXPERIENCE A LOSS DUE TO SOMETHING OVER WHICH YOU HAVE NO CONTROL.

You don't own your apartment, but you still need insurance protection. The apartment complex has insurance, but this does not protect you or your personal property.

Renter's insurance protects the possessions that matter to you—from weather (i.e., wind, hail, snow, and freezing), fire, smoke, theft and some types of water damage, as well as other types of liability.

PERSONAL PROPERTY

Your personal belongings are likely worth more than you think.

You need insurance coverage for the loss of items such as:

- televisions
- furniture
- clothes
- jewelry
- computers
- sports equipment
- cameras

LIABILITY COVERAGE

Accidents happen.

If a guest trips in your apartment and is injured, you could be liable. Examples of potential liability include:

- Medical expenses for bodily injury caused by an accident in your apartment.
- Damage or injuries caused by negligence of children, acts of pets and sporting activities.
